To whom this may concern:

I've been in the swimming pool business for over 35 years and have seen thousands of pools over those years. I have worked with many local pool builders over years, so I was going to be very picky when building a new pool at my own house. I got to know George through his cousin and got to see 5-6 of his recent builds and knew that George was who I wanted to build my pool.

The pool I built was not very complicated (10X18) but it was in a tight courtyard with an uncooperative neighbor. George was hesitant to get involved with a neighbor dispute before we even dug the hole! However, he was able to source smaller machines which allowed us to proceed with the build and get the pool done in less than 2 months!

What I found with George and Seacoast Pool Design was they are only working on a handful of pools at a time, so work progresses vs. some of the larger pool builders that dig a hole and then "the waiting game begins!" The crew George has been with him for years, so you also see the same guys showing up to do the work which makes it easy if you have a concern and you only have to tell one person instead of repeating yourself to every new guy you see in the backyard.

You absolutely can't go wrong with George Arp and Seacoast Pool Design!
